Greetings,

As Mayor of the City of Houston, I welcome all attending the U.S. Africa Energy Forum. This summit and gala offer public and private sector leaders from all over Africa and the United States to join the international dialogue in assessing various forms of energy and nurture commercial opportunities.

Through its theme, "New Horizons for United States Africa Energy Investment," the forum will explore diverse foreign investment and export opportunities and emphasize the significant role that Texas and Houston can play in the growth of new energy transition as the energy capital of the world.

The City of Houston's dynamic culture thrives from its ability to maintain and grow its international relationships and outreach, and this endeavor to build African focused businesses with Houston's companies continues in this proud tradition.

As you attend the U.S. Africa Energy Forum, please enjoy the plethora of attractions that abound in this great city!

Best wishes for a rewarding event.

Sincerely,
