It's Here

Energy Capital & Power (ECP) is excited to produce the first-ever Libya Energy & Economic Summit, with the official endorsement of the Office of Prime Minister H.E. Abdulhamid M. A. Al Dabiba and resolute commitment from the Libyan government to revitalizing the national energy sector.

The Libya Energy & Economic Summit 2021 represents the first international energy event in Tripoli in almost a decade, as the North African producer seeks to revive its oil and gas industry and boost oil output on the back of more peaceful and stable conditions in the country. This event seeks to drive foreign capital, technology and expertise into the country's energy sector, utilizing sectoral revitalization as a catalyst for broader economic growth.

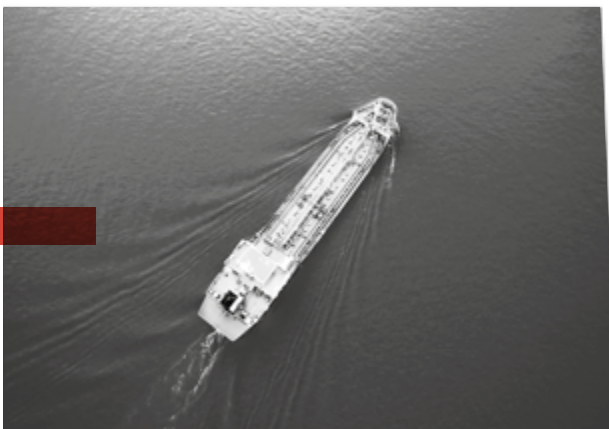

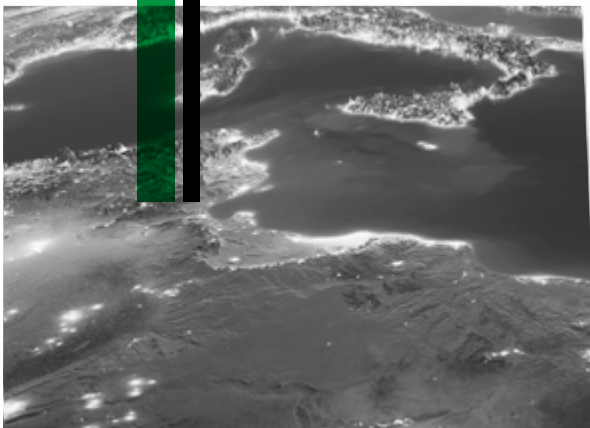

Libya has long been one of the reigning oil producers within the MENA region. Following the swearing-in of the new administration last March, the country has enacted a series of reforms aimed at streamlining sectoral activities and achieving phased production increases. The conference will examine the conditions for oil and gas investment and financing, power provision, new projects, Libya's role as an Africa / Europe energy nexus, and its position in the energy transition narrative.

"Libya is one of the most influential oil and gas markets on the continent, with a strategic position on the Mediterranean and vast, under-explored basins estimated to hold extensive frontier potential. ECP is honored to play a role in restoring the country to global prominence in the energy sector," said Kelly-Ann Mealia, Chairperson at ECP. "This Libyan administration has been proactive in re-establishing structure within the industry, re-building regional and global ties, and re-allocating budgets to rehabilitate existing energy infrastructure. ECP supports Libya on its transformative path to becoming an integrated, sustainable energy powerhouse."

ECP and its partners are honored to welcome investors and champions of Libya's re-emergence to the Libya Energy & Economic Summit 2021 – an historic occasion, and a beacon for Libya's transformation and growth in the years to come.

Why Libya? Why Now?

Energy Capital & Power, formerly Africa Oil & Power, stands behind the Libyan Government of National Unity as it seeks to bring stability and prosperity to the State of Libya in 2021 and beyond. As the foundation of future growth and primary destination for international investment, the energy sector is vital to the success of the overall Libyan economy.

Energy Capital & Power will produce a strategic investment summit in Tripoli on 22-23 November 2021 with these goals:

- Establish a roadmap for future development of the petroleum and power industries.
- Send a clear and strong message to the world that Libya is open for investment.
- Gain investment into oil and gas, power infrastructure, petroleum infrastructure, and renewables.
- Discuss matters of national security and development with regard to the energy sector with global partners.

At this moment, Libya stands at the threshold of a new era of growth. This strategic investment summit will align partners and investors with the vision of the people and government of Libya.

For European, African, Middle Eastern and American partners, Libya is a lynchpin for security and prosperity in the North Africa region, with a dynamic energy sector at the heart of a successful economy.

Why Participate?

Official Investment Conference

The Libya Energy & Economic Summit 2021 is the only official energy event endorsed by the Libyan Government and the first major international event to be held in Tripoli for many years, featuring two days of exclusive discussions and deal-making.

Hydrocarbons Prospects

International oil majors are recommitting to drilling and exploration activities in 2022 and beyond, as Libya holds the largest recoverable reserves on the continent and offers attractive prospects in both mature and frontier basins.

Discover Diverse Opportunities

Libya requires substantial foreign capital, technology and expertise across refining, power generation and transmission, renewable and clean energy sectors, specifically in the rehabilitation and upgrading of existing infrastructure.

Renewed Government Support

On the back of more peaceful and stable political conditions, the Libyan Government has vowed to support the flow of private investment in energy and non-energy sectors alike via improved business and regulatory frameworks and reform priorities.

Event Format

The Libya Energy & Economic Summit takes place at a unique moment in Libya's recovery, and in the global energy sector's development. Take your place at this historic forum, alongside Libyan leaders and the private sector, and support the nation.

Two day program

Over two days a series of panels, keynote presentations, roundtables, and workshops will explain the energy opportunities in Libya today, and how the broader economy can benefit from international investment, technology and financing.

Gala dinner

Energy Capital & Power, the Libyan Government and our partners will host a special dinner to honor ministerial guests and delegations from Europe, Africa, and the Middle East. The gala dinner is open only to invited VIPs and a very limited number of sponsors.

Women in Energy breakfast

This sponsored investor breakfast event highlights the important and growing role of women in the Libyan energy sector, with the sector's most prominent female leaders presenting views on energy and other industries, and their paths to inclusion and growth.

Secure environment

Our official security partner Security Side and our venue partners will provide careful and high level security and analysis throughout the proceedings.
